When Edge Recruits in Totnes was looking for an interiors company to fit out their high profile new premises at Bretonside in Plymouth, they chose Engage Workplace “because we understood the brief!”

A new concept in employment with the brand name ‘Mego’, the client wanted to create a more relaxed cafe style environment with a designed solution that used the space efficiently and a scheme that produced the desired ‘wow factor’

Works also included new wash rooms, new lighting and a bespoke reception design using solid natural materials
